GRAIN PRICES

Furnished by E. W. WAGNER & CO., 212 Union National Bank Building.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.-Another day of easy grain news. Hoover's speech on world's financial condition bearisb. Canadian wheat crop looks big at 290 million bushels. Claims of a large winter wheat acreage. English cables show little improvement. Argentine wheat shipments large. Long wheat decline and claims of big mould damage to corn doesn't bring in new buyers of any consequence. Bears predict heavy Canadian wheat receipts for another 30 days. Forecast United States and Canada fair. Government report likely will be a standoff.

The course of the grain markets has not stimulated sowing. Wheat has vance has been lost, and on Wednesday the entire line was dragging on the bottom of a new low. One of Wednesday's surprises was a flat break of 5 cents per bushel on December rye to 89 cents, the lowest price in several years. Rye is a standard bread flour in Europe and we are heavy exporters of that grain. It was considerable of a surprise to see rye selling under 90

An Unreasonable Claim. According to printed reports of the national meeting of grain dealers at Chicago, this week, it was stated that a resolution was passed: "Favoring the withdrawal of the Smith-Lever funds from being used in county agent agricultural work, because the grain men believe that it is unfair to use this money to aid in organizing cooperative associations." A copy of this resolution is to be sent to the president, is the statement of the secretary.

this settlement sale. Feature of the Sale The home contained a number of old and quaint furnishings. These were eagerly bid for on the part of relatives and others, and brought exceptional prices in several instances. All household items were disposed of, also the farm chattels and live stock, "even to the dog,' as Albert Hindman remarked. There were about 100 hogs, mostly spring stuff, in the sale. Hogs went at very good figures, everything considered. The eight head of cows ranged up around $60 for top, "mostly going over $50," as Mr. Hoover stated. Implements sold according to use and value. Corn in the crib brought 52 cents and standing corn better than $10 per acre, while some good hay sold for $12.75 per ton.

Sale Totals $2,500. "Speaking in round numbers the sale netted $2,500," said Mr. Hoover, 'and we considered it a very satisfactory amount," in view of the items up for disposal." Hindman and Weddle promoted the sale and the ladies of the "Brick church," at Hagerstown, provided a greatly appreciated lunch.
